

2nd Reinforcement Learning Conference

As the organizers for the 2025 Reinforcement Learning Conference (RLC), we would like to thank you for your interest in supporting RLC 2025. This coming summer, RLC is excited to host its 2nd annual conference in Edmonton, Canada. The meeting will be held, Tuesday, August 5th through Friday, August 8th, 2025.

RLC is an annual international conference focused on reinforcement learning. RLC provides an archival venue where reinforcement learning researchers can interact and share their research in a more focused setting than typical large machine learning venues. The RLC peer review process prioritizes rigorous methodology over perceived importance, aiming to foster scholarly discussions on both well-established and emerging topics in RL. Papers accepted by RLC are published as articles in the Reinforcement Learning Journal (RLJ).

RLC was founded in 2024 by researchers studying reinforcement learning from University of Massachusetts, University of Texas (Austin), New York University, Université de Montréal, and University of Alberta—academic institutions that have led the field for decades. While the conference founders are fairly young—representing the next generation of researchers, the advisory board includes icons of reinforcement learning with representation across top 10 universities and leading tech companies.

RLC 2025 will be held at the University of Alberta in Edmonton, Canada in August 2025. The conference plans to showcase several hundred innovative research papers and we anticipate nearly 1,000 in-person participants. The conference will present a unique opportunity to communicate with and recruit researchers focused on many different aspects of reinforcement learning.

Donors to RLC will help support the development of this new research venue as well as diversity and inclusion efforts. This will provide support to reinforcement learning researchers who might otherwise be unable to participate in the conference. Additionally, RLC can also support the objectives spearheaded by affinity groups that are part of the RL research community.

Exhibitors can gain access to the opt-in recruitment list, sponsor portions of the event, and operate a table at the conference to personally connect with the top researchers in the field.
